Lo: I can write a story

Last year, there lived a famous miniature boy called Edie, who lived on the side of a damp hedge block house. His grandpa, in a penetrating voice kept "do not go in the dramatically huge cave" because in it is a dragon called Echo with a 129kg wrestling ball on the end of the body, also he is kind so don't go in the cave!

Edie thought "Will I go in the cave?" he replied. He whispered "I should go ⁱⁿ!" He went in and saw... Platinum Slabs, and then Edie ^{went} in the cave! He went in the cave, well because he saw something.

Suddenly there was a immense dragon called Edie. The monstrously monster was trying to elect rescue Edie. Echo had poison hairs all over him and could go 100000000000 MPH! he could go any where in a millisecond.

Edie runs as rapid as he could and rushed home making a cacophony. He got home and his grandpa was furious at him so hate that some one could hear him a mile away. He was definitely ^{not} going to the cave again he was sorry for him SILENCE!
